

Dear FCC,

Our current news views corporate interests and not community interests. Public airways seem to be sold to the highest bidder. What about the fairness doctrine in regards to elections? There are many stories like families paying higher taxes and events against the occupation of Irac that are not covered. I'm hoping to see some changes in the media so that the REAL stories are covered. Currently I avoid the news on TV since it doesn't cover true stories and is biased towards corporations and people in power.

Thank you,

Marcie P. Olsen
